State and Local Officials Stress Planning and Cooperation As Key to 146 Project

"We could make this a model for how to combine economic and community goals."

— Senator John Houston

*This is the third in a series of articles on the proposed Route 146
Corridor Project.*

Most Local and State officials in Millbury and Sutton seem to agree that the Rte 146 improvements will have a positive effect on the region, and all stress the great need for caution and planning by both towns. Inasmuch as the plans are far from being finalized, there seems to be some urgency in anticipating the impact of the construction and the need to put in place restrictions which will prevent Rte 146 from becoming another Rte 9. Because the plans are incomplete, there appears to be a window of time during which the communities can become involved in the planning to guarantee that the interchanges and connectors will have a minimal negative impact on the communities through which they pass. If precautions are taken, most see the connector as a positive addition not only to the towns, but also for the entire Central Massachusetts area.

Representative Paul Kollios (D-Millbury) has been involved in the project as far back as twenty years ago when he was a member of the Millbury-Sutton Jaycees. "We were involved with the Central Mass. Regional Planning Commission at that time and urged them to do a study of the 146 needs and to see about an interchange here." Kollios also sees the plans to construct the interchange and upgrade the roadway as having nothing but positive benefits. "I think it enhances the whole region economically, tremendously so. The beautiful part of it is the 270 acre green belt plan being planned parallel with it from the Blackstone Valley to Worcester. Twenty or thirty years in the future it will be the future belt of economic development with hi-tech industry, such as the 495 and 128 belt."

Senator John Houston's (D-Worcester) comments parallel those of Kollios. "The advantages are part of an overall economic game plan. The project is essential if we want to locate different job opportunities in the area."

He also stressed the need for public participation and dialogue if the project is going to be successful. "We could make this a model for how to combine economic and community goals," he said.

Houston feels that the essential ingredient for a successful project is community participation, not only to get the project constructed but to do it in such a way that the impact on the residents bordering the project will be minimal.

"The reason the plans have moved this far, this quickly," Houston explained, "is because we have responded to community concerns. When the project began, we stressed that we were not looking for a blank check but for quality development. At each step of the project we insisted that we move ahead with the input of the people affected - positively and negatively - by it. We want people to know that the DPW (Department of Public Works) and the Mass Turnpike don't have a blank check to do what they want."

Rep. Richard Moore (D-Uxbridge), whose district includes Sutton, has great but realistic hopes that the project cannot only add to the economic well-being of the entire Blackstone Valley but that the project can accomplish this in a style that will enhance the entire region. Moore has been the driving force in the Blackstone Valley Heritage Park project. One feature of this project is the construction of a 270 acre Blackstone Valley Heritage Park which will include a hiking path and bike way along the Blackstone River.

Moore also sees the project as going beyond the Lowell restoration project because it will feature the entire region as a national corridor, tying in Worcester and Providence and all the towns in between. He feels that the area will profit from the efforts of the Regional Economic Development Corporation which has completed two studies outlining the type of development which should occur along the corridor and suggesting where this development can be most suitably placed. "We're going to benefit from that kind of planning, unlike Rte 9. We can provide the appropriate mix of commercial and residential development while trying to maintain the rural character of the area. But for this to happen, the towns are going to have to keep on top of it," he cautioned.

The responsibility for cautious planning falls squarely on the shoulders of local government. Wallace Johnson, Chairman of the Sutton Selectmen, stated that the selectmen have been looking cautiously at the proposals and what they suggest for the future of Sutton. "Right now, the Planning Board is doing a careful and in-depth study of the types of growth that we can expect from the project. But we don't know very much about the details of the project so we're hesitant to take any steps until we have a better idea of what will happen. We expect to work closely with the other town departments, and are anxious to consider the conclusions of the Planning Board."

Mary K. Connor, Chairman of the Sutton Planning Board, has been anticipating the growth that this project will have on Sutton. Last summer, the Board created the Growth Study Task Force made up of members from various town committees and boards as well as many interested citizens. The Board's objective is to gather as much information from as many sources as possible to try to understand and to recommend actions which can be taken to control growth in the town. "We know it (growth) is coming," she said with an air of resignation, "and we've done a lot of work trying to anticipate it. We feel that Sutton will experience more residential than industrial growth and that a big hindrance to development will be from the lack of utilities that are needed to support it." She feels that Sutton is a half a step ahead of the development and fully expects that the Board will propose some zoning changes to minimize any negative impact from the anticipated growth.

Gary Swenson, Chairman of the Millbury Planning Board, stated that his Board is actively considering the effects which the project will have on Millbury. "The Planning Board has very little to say in the plans, but we want to be involved in the deliberations and have some impact on the final outcome," he said. "We don't know how much land will be taken for the interchanges and we don't know where the final plans for the road will be. Right now it appears that the West side of 146 will be the area developed."

Jude Cristo, Chairman of the Millbury Board of Selectmen, struck a strong note of caution. "I have some serious concerns with the land taking along 146," he stated. "Unlike others, I see no great benefit to the town of Millbury and I can foresee a lot of problems that have to be resolved. The improvements to the highway will increase traffic and speeds, which have to impact the residents along 146. All we know now are the plans that have been made public, but they don't tell us very much and I want to be sure that the residents of Millbury won't be shortchanged by the project," he said. "We've been in contact with Paul Kollios and there will be many more discussions. I'm looking forward to them so that we can present some of the concerns of the residents."

NEXT WEEK: The viewpoint of local police and fire officials on the proposed corridor project. In addition, we will present the views of area residents. If you are a resident of Millbury or Sutton and would like to be interviewed on the project, please call the office before noon on Saturday, November 7th.

We the people...

To the Editor:

I wish to take this opportunity to thank the many people of my district who donated many items and baked goods at the recent Kollios Market Day. A special thanks to Mrs. Minnie Ballard, Everett Grahn and Robert Picking for the use of the premises at Ballard Motors. Also, I would like to thank my workers who organized this event and everyone who participated in any way to make this such a huge success. Again, many thanks,

Paul Kollios
State Representative

MILLBURY SELECTMEN'S MEETING DIGEST

DWINELL ROAD — PUBLIC OR PRIVATE?

By Edward J. Cooney

OCTOBER 27, 1987

Chairman Jude Cristo called the meeting to order at 7:00 p.m. The minutes of two previous meetings were approved on a 4-0 vote after several corrections by Selectman Wynton Adams.

Members of the Personnel Board were present to discuss their duties and responsibilities as a Board. In response to a question, Cristo informed the Personnel board that copies of by-laws and union contracts were available and would be supplied. He suggested that they select a Chairman, get organized and establish dates for future meetings. Cristo also inquired if there was a budget available to hire a clerk for writing minutes. All members, Brent Lerch, Craig Coppola, and Peter Gauthier indicated that there was no budget available to the Personnel Board at this time.

Cristo suggested that one member keep rough minutes of their meetings. He also advised them to familiarize themselves with town employees' contracts, noting that they would be hearing and settling grievances.

Adams asked that they keep in mind that the Personnel Board is a recommending Board and that all wages should be approved by the Town Meeting. "It would be advantageous to have a classification of a compensation plan for the Town Meeting."

Cristo then informed the Board of a meeting with the Town Clerk on Thursday, October 28th, to watch a demonstration of voting machines. He also indicated that the Town Clerk required an affirmative vote from the Board of Selectmen to forward to the Secretary of State, noting their support of a plan for four precincts in the Town of Millbury. The Board approved on a 4-0 vote.

Under "Old Business", Cristo told Board members that the Resource Recovery Plant would shut down for three days to allow for water connections to be made to the plant.

The Transfer Station Study committee has approved plans for construction of a transfer station and has submitted them to the DEQE for review and approval. In response to a question on how the station was to be managed, Adams stated that a management plan was the prerogative of the Board of Health and probably would not be developed until after the station is built.

Cristo informed the Selectmen that Mr. Hoel has not submitted an estimate for restoration of the Asa Waters Mansion.

The dredging company and B.S.E.Engineering will be at Dorothy Pond to see what can be done to speed up the drying process of dredging residue.

The following letter from Thomas P. Cusson, Section Chief/Air Quality Control of the DEQE to Jean Lewis of Lewcott Corporation was introduced:

"Personnel from the Department of Environmental Quality Engineering, Division of Air Quality Control, Central Region observed the operation of your recently installed thermal afterburner (application CM-87-IF-010) on October 1, 1987 and October 2, 1987, at the Millbury facility and also discussed operations and stack testing requirements during a meeting at the Millbury facility on October 14, 1987.

"The afterburner was in operation, but fugitive emissions of VOC's were still being emitted from the application stations of both lines one and two, which in turn were vented uncontrolled to the ambient air. Also the temperature recorder was not yet installed and operating.

"You are reminded that completion of these steps are conditions of the plan approval and Department ORDER.

"Please inform this office of the status of these items and the expected completion dates for each."

There were no comments on the letter from Board members. Lewcott is under orders by the DEQE to be in compliance by October 31, 1987.

The number of books written for children and published in the United States has almost doubled since 1984. A look at books for children today shows that they just keep getting better and better in content, quality of writing, and graphics. For example, you'll find more books dealing with the concerns and problems important to today's child. Divorce, death and loneliness are often subjects of children's books, even picture books. Subjects like moving to a new neighborhood, going to the dentist, and being afraid of the dark, all help children to deal with things that are second nature to most adults. Best of all, there are lots of books that are just plain fun to read.

Growing in numbers, are books for even the youngest readers in any household. These are the sturdy little board books. These books are designed to withstand the curiosity and wet fingers of a room full of infants and toddlers. There are also books for this young set that are fun and interesting for them to touch. There are some books that are inflatable so that they can be hugged and held into the night.

Picture books are a big hit with preschoolers; some adults will also confess a love for them. The best picture books today are almost lyrical when you read them. They have illustrations that capture the imagination and whimsy of children. These books come in all sizes, but most are large so that children and parents can enjoy reading them together. One small joy of many picture books is the type of glossy paper they are printed on; the type of paper that's silky to the touch and a pleasure to feel between your fingers.

It's not an easy job to select among the many choices available in children's literature; our children's librarian can attest to that. It took her a while, but she has put together a sample of the various types of books you'll find on the shelves of the Millbury Public Library.

PICTURE BOOKS

GHOST'S HOUR. SPOOK'S HOUR by Eve Bunting, illustrated by Donald Carrick. There never will be another friend like Annie Bananie, so what happens when this little girl moves away? Kids and adults, with their long lost Annie Bananie, will enjoy this book's hilarious pictures and imaginative text.

CHIPMUNK SONG by Joanne Ryder, illustrated by Lynne Cherry. Poems of change by award winning poet, Joanne Ryder, are illustrated by delicate drawings of "Chipmunk" and his friends as they prepare for harsh weather ahead.

IN COAL COUNTRY by Judith Hendershot, illustrated by Thomas B. Allen. Growing up in a small Ohio coal mining town in the 1930's sounds harsh by today's standards, but through the eyes of a young girl it's a fresh and vivid world, warmed by family and friends. Thomas B. Allen's soft, pastel pictures complement this story about a vanishing way of life.

FICTION

TALLAHASSEE HIGGINS by Mary Downing Hahn. This is the author of the award winning Daphne's Book. As in Daphne's Book, Hahn tells a contemporary story with insight and humor. This is a story about a young girl who's gutsy and asserts her independence, yet longs for a little mothering.

NUTTY CAN'T MISS by Dean Hughes. This is another book in the popular "Nutty" series. Here, "Nutty" is a high school sports hero who is the key player on the Lab School Labradors Basketball Team. He aspires to a college scholarship and college ball with his sights on playing in the NBA. With his sights set, second thoughts set in.

SO LONG, GRANDPA by Elfie Donnelly. This is the story of Michael and what happens to him when his hero, his grandpa, learns he has cancer and is going to die. An absorbing story about emotions that range from guilt to misery, and the importance of the small pleasures of life.

DON'T CALL ME TOAD by Mary Francis Shura. A mystery with its share of terror that involves two girls and a runaway boy. Most of all, this is a story of the risk of friendship.

BIOGRAPHY

ON AND OFF THE ICE by Dorothy Hamill. This is Hamill's own story about her life and achievements of winning an Olympic World Medal and the World Figure Skating Championship, and being named the "Outstanding Athlete of the Year". A fascinating story about the world of international figure skating as well as the world behind the titles and achievements. Hamill writes with spirit and humor and, throughout, she reveals a famous person who never lost her naturalness and humility.

DOBBS LTD
BOSTON

- At 7:30 p.m., Cristo opened a hearing on a dog complaint involving two dogs owned by Andrew Bengston of Beach Street.

Cristo swore in Dog Officer George Royal, Mrs. Terry Burke Dolson, and Mrs. Menard, neighbors.

Royal reported that Bengston had two dogs on the property, one an unlicensed black dog and the other a Great Dane. Royal stated that the dogs should be penned, kept in the yard, and not allowed to roam.

Bengston stated that he has tried to restrain his Great Dane with leashing chains and chokers; but the dog has always slipped or broken away from the ties. He told the Board that he has begun to build a pen for the dog and that it should be completed by this coming weekend.

Mrs. Burke testified that she has had two ducks killed and another injured. She alleged that these events were caused by the Great Dane and also stated that she is afraid of the dog and fearful for her young daughter when she in the yard.

Mrs. Menard stated that she has been frightened when the dog has followed her on her way to work.

Selectman Roland Lachance then noted that he is sick of hearing about complaints concerning dogs. He stated that he has a dog but keeps his dog restrained on his property. "The By-law concerning leashing of dogs is for all townspeople," Lachance also said that he feels strongly that the problem is with people who do not take responsibility for their dogs.

Cristo closed the hearing by stating that the complaint would be taken under advisement and that all parties would be notified in writing about the decision of the Selectmen.

Following the Dog Hearing, the Board discussed briefly with Royal recent events reported in the press concerning the Postal Service's complaint over dog problems on Manor Road.

Cristo stated that he was annoyed that the Postmaster had not come to the Selectmen before going to the press. He noted that the Dog Officer and the Board had resolved problems in that area before.

Donnelly asked, "Why didn't he go to you (Royal)? How can the paper restrict dogs?"

Royal replied, "I told him that today." He also stated that he had gone down to the Manor Road area before the Postmaster and Postal worker had arrived and that there were no dogs to be found.

Lachance stated, "In my opinion you are doing a good job. We have got to get the people in court and make them pay, not the dogs."

- At 8:00 p.m., Cristo recognized Mrs. Marjorie O'Neil and Kathy Blash, who were present to discuss and respond to a letter sent to Kathy Blash stating that it was the opinion of Town Counsel that Dwinell Road was a private street.

Mrs. Blash and her husband plan to build a house which abuts Dwinell Road and which is part of a parcel of land owned by her mother-in-law, Mrs. Helen Blash, known as Blash Farm.

Mrs. O'Neil presented Cristo with a letter stating that she had Power of Attorney for Mrs. Helen Blash, concerning the matter under discussion. References were made by Mrs. O'Neil to a series of letters and correspondence between the County Commission and the Blash family, concerning the rescinding of a previous vote by the County Commission that converted Dwinell Road to a private status. The most recent decision of the County Commissioners reconstituted Dwinell Road as a public road, which is in contradiction to a decision made by the Millbury Planning Board and the Board of Selectmen.

Mrs. Blash informed the board that, as an abutter, Mrs. Helen Blash should have been notified of the Public Hearing on the issue but was not, and lack of that action constituted an illegal action.

Mrs. O'Neil suggested that a recent Supreme Court ruling states that a town or community cannot prevent a property owner from use of his property without compensation.

Adams suggested that the present issue had no parallel with the ruling handed down by the Court.

When Mrs. Blash stated that the property was farm land and was receiving an abatement under the Agricultural Restriction Law, Adams suggested that, if that were the case, the Town would have first option to the land before it was disposed of through sale.

Mrs. Blash replied that Helen Blash has been approached by several developers over the years but has refused to sell, hoping to keep the farm acreage in the family's name. She also indicated that she wished to build a home on a portion of the farm abutting Dwinell Road. She noted that Dwinell Road was passable up to the portion of land where she and her husband intend to build. Mrs. Blash stated that she was disappointed when told by the Building Inspector that a building permit could not be issued for building on a private, dirt road. She also said that there must be a way to build on their own property and maybe her lawyer could find a way to accomplish this.

Cristo stated that the Board would research the files to see if records show that all abutters were informed by return receipt mail and also would consult with Town Counsel.

- Returning to "Old Business", Adams noted that the Gas company opened a section of the sidewalk on West Main Street and failed to restore it to its original condition. He said that the area was dangerous and could cause injury as there is no warning of the condition. On a 4-0 vote, the Board moved to contact the Gas Company and request immediate repairs.

- Under "New Business," the Selectmen voted 4-0 to approve the signing of documents prepared by Highway Surveyor, Joe Chase, for reimbursement under Chapter 90 projects.

- Under an addenda item, before completing the Agenda, the Board voted 4-0 to appoint Sergeant Lincoln Barton as Acting Chief during the period from November 4th through November 8th while Acting Chief Ron Stokowski is on vacation.

- The Board approved Stokowski's request for a vacation on a 4-0 vote.

& Golden Agers Update

By Lillian C. Sheehan

MILLBURY GOLDEN AGE CLUB

The four meetings in November, namely the 3rd, 10th, 17th, and 24th, are the time to sign up for the annual Christmas Party! The meal will consist of Ham and Turkey served "family style" at 7:00 p.m., following the cocktail hour which will be held from 6:30 to 7:00 p.m.

Tickets for paid-up members are $5.00; as in the past, the club is assuming the balance. Ollie Edmond will be entertaining, playing everyone's favorite songs on the organ.

Mrs. Rita Woodward and Mrs. Loraine Colarusso are co-chairwomen.

CENTERVIEW APARTMENTS

Tenants at Centerview Apartments will hold their annual Fall Fair on Saturday, November 7th, from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. There will be a Baked Goods Table with a variety of cakes and loaves, plus the ever popular Home Baked Beans. In addition, the following will also be featured: crafts table, jewelry table, treasurers or trifles on the white elephant table, a clothing corner, and a raffle table. Coffee will be available. Come early and do some of your Christmas shopping. There will be many nice articles from which to choose. The public is cordially invited to come!

On Thursday and Friday mornings, we were paid a visit by children from the nursery School of the Federated Church. Invading the hall were Cowboys and Indians, Pirates, and all the popular characters the children watch on TV. The girls were more daintily dressed as "Rainbow Bright" and Princesses, etc. They were all having a good time. One youngster came up to me and said, "I'm the Knight in Shining Armor", and indeed he was. The entire group did their teachers proud because they enjoyed their refreshments and Halloween fun and were very well behaved. See you next year, kids!

At the recent Tenant's meeting, mention was made of two events in the not too distant future. On Tuesday, November 17th, a trip is planned for lunch in Middleboro, MA at "Huckleberry's Chicken House". Choice of Menu has not been chosen as yet, but just the name sounds inviting. There will also be time for shopping on the way home.

The other trip will be a nice meal, probably at the Cocke'N Kettle, and a trip to the famous LaSalette Shrine. More details about this later.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

"Happy Birthday" to Lillian Haley, Alta Bailey, Francis Grenier, Tony Magerowski, and Homer Welcom of Centerview Apartments!

At Linden Apartments, best wishes are going to John Sharp, Mabel O'Brien, and Margaret Cobb (who will be celebrating her 94th birthday!!).

Congratulations to all the above, and to show you how important the occasion is, I can't resist quoting the following verse:

"I asked the wise old owl, sitting in a tree, about this Birthday business, and here's how he answered me:

'As wise as I'm supposed to be, I don't know much about them; but this I know for certainty--You won't live long without them!'"

GET WELL WISHES

Anna Callahan, formerly of Linden Apartments, is now at Providence House in Millbury.

Mamie Bailey is a patient at St. Vincent's Hospital.

A speedy recovery is wished to them!

Moore Attends Conference On Tax Reform

UXBRIDGE. Representative Richard T. Moore (D-Uxbridge), a member of the Special Commission on Tax Reform, attended a conference on "Tax Reform: Agenda for the Next Five years" held recently in Washington, D.C. The conference, which was attended by over 300 legislators and tax specialists, was co-sponsored by the National Conference of State Legislatures and the Council of State Chambers of Commerce's Committee on State Taxation.

This year saw the most major tax reforms at the State level in the past fifty years. The reforms, primarily in the areas of personal income tax and sales tax, resulted from the 1986 Federal Tax Reform, changing state economies, and recently completed state tax studies. Considerable attention at the conference was centered on Florida's recently passed sales tax services such as advertising, legal, engineering and accounting.

Moore noted that Massachusetts considered such a tax in 1983, but rejected it after heavy lobbying by hi-tech businesses and professional services. He added that such a major expansion of the sales tax is unlikely in Massachusetts at the present time because of the state's strong economy.

Sutton High Staff Members Serve On Evaluation Committee

SUTTON. Sutton High School Guidance Counselor, Michel Perron, and teacher, Anne T. Keegan, served on the visiting committee which evaluated Lenox Memorial High School from October 25-28.

Founded in 1885, the New England Association is the oldest regional accreditation association in the country and is recognized by the U.S. Department of Education as the sole agency to award accreditation to educational institutions in New England.

The association is a voluntary league of over 1140 public and independent schools, colleges and universities, and vocational, technical and career institutions. Of these, approximately 660 public schools have been accredited through the association's Commission on Public Schools which assists individual schools to improve the quality of education through a process of evaluation and accreditation.

Both Mrs. Keegan and Mr. Perron helped to review various educational components of the school and assisted in the preparation of the final report of the high school evaluation.
